

University Membership Program Admission Information 2020-2021

Important Information:

Timed tickets are required for all visitors including University Members. Tickets can be reserved in advance online. Please note there will be no on-site or same-day ticket sales. The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston will be open five days a week: Wednesday – Sunday 10 am – 5pm. We will be closed on Monday and Tuesday.

Students, faculty, and staff can reserve 1 free admission ticket in advance of their visit by using the promo code provided your university contact. Tickets for additional guests may be purchased online by visiting mfa.org/tickets.

Reserving a Ticket

To reserve tickets online, visit mfa.org/tickets and select the date and time slot. On the top right corner of the page enter the promo code to access your 1 free ticket. Students, faculty, and staff will need to present a valid university ID and admission ticket(s) on the date of their visit (digital is preferred).

Below the header, there is a form with a text input field labeled 'Promo Code' and a 'Submit' button. At the bottom left of the form area, the date 'September 30, 2020' is displayed.

Restrictions

While general admission will continue to be free for all University Members, there will be a $5 additional surcharge for special temporary exhibitions, including “Writing the Future” and “Monet and Boston”. University Members will be able to access tickets at this special rate with the same promo code used for their general admission. Please note, at this time we will not be able to accommodate any group visits.

The McLane Family New Hampshire Student Membership Program allows New Hampshire students of all ages in public and private school, as well as those who are home schooled, to visit the Museum free of charge.

The Lunder Maine Student Membership Program at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston is generously funded by The Lunder Foundation.

Pozen Community College Access Program is made possible by Liz and Bob Pozen.
